

Jobless Women Total Is High

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—There's worry for working girls in the news today.

The number of jobless women in the United States went over the one million mark this summer for the first time since the early days of the war—and the figures appear to be climbing higher.

By the end of the first week of July there were one and one-quarter million women in the nation looking for jobs. Women over the age of 25 were hardest hit by the increase in women's unemployment.

The Women's bureau of the Labor department says it is watching the situation closely but estimates that it will take at least two months to diagnose a trend from the Census bureau figures.

Figure Rises
At the end of June there were 1,180,000 women looking for work as opposed to 809,000 last June. By July ninth the figure had risen to 1,250,000 as against that of 779,000 one year ago that week.

Current figures indicate that women make up more than one third of all persons unemployed throughout the nation.

The employment picture for women has been troublesome for some time. Seasonal increases have fallen below expectations while seasonal reductions in force have run higher than in other years.

The Women's bureau noted in May that there were more girls under the age of 20 working, and consequently fewer in school, than during the same month the year before.

These teen-agers, the bureau says, have been comparatively unaffected by the increase in unemployment. The main shock has been absorbed by their elder sisters.

Women's bureau experts are now hard at work analyzing the unemployment figures and studying their significance.

They say, however, that the next few months will tell the story.

INCREASED CLASSES NEED BUILDINGS

to absorb the added burden plus building which would be required under ordinary circumstances.

Public school building expansion will be conducted by the department in conjunction with super building agencies like the general state and the public school building authorities.

The anticipated enrollment in public schools from kindergarten to 12th grade is pegged above one and one half million pupils, the department said. Public schools in the state are valued at $651,036,732 or roughly $429 per pupil, according to the department.

Officials said the state needs from 750 to 1,000 new school buildings, additions and general improvements, but they did not put an estimate upon how many new classrooms are needed.

At the same time the department stressed the need for additional grade school teachers, books and equipment.

All states face the similar problem of public school expansion, according to one survey.

A recent study by the council of state governments revealed 250,000 new school rooms will have to be built within the next 10 years to accommodate the increase throughout the nation.

many wet gains "despite the impediment that local option elections are restricted variously to cities, wards, precincts and townships."

600 Dry Cities

Pennsylvania, she said, has about 600 dry cities and towns, while Illinois has about 900 dry areas, including 150 precincts in Chicago.

Mrs. Colvin said that in 18,000 local option elections since repeal the dries have forced "the ouster of liquor, wine or beer" in more than 10,000 communities. She added:

"About 4,000 areas comprised of one or more voting units are now dry or ban hard liquor. These make up about one-fourth of the country by area, and contain an estimate 27,000,000 people."

Women Drinkers

Another WCTU spokesman — Miss Mary B. Ervin, vice-president-at-large — said that women alcoholics in the country have been increasing at the rate of 120,000 annually.

Habitual women drunkards in the nation, she reported, have reached "an all-time high of 800,000—or one for every four men similarly addicted."

Miss Ervin charged that the steady increase in female alcoholics has resulted largely from an attitude that drinking by women is "socially smart and glamorous."

She said that the drinking habit "rapidly cheapens women" and has become their "greatest degrading influence."

KIRK AND STALIN DISCUSS GERMANY

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Reuters news agency quoted "well informed western quarters" today as saying that U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk and Premier Joseph Stalin discussed Germany during their Monday night meeting.

The British news agency said that the "unofficial Soviet view" is that Stalin once again displayed his willingness to meet with high western diplomats, indicating that the USSR is ready to participate in a top-level exchange of views.

could act. This authority ended Monday midnight and indefinite extension was rejected by the House.

However, approval of the continuing resolution by the rules committee would clear the way for a second try in the house, which was expected to reverse itself and send it on to the Senate.

The upper chamber, castigated in the house for its lack of speed, was expected to send it to the White House without delay.

The Rules Committee failed to act yesterday on the continuing resolution and Chairman Sabath (D) Ill., said he might not call another meeting of his group "until next week."

However, it was anticipated that the 12-member committee would probably meet this afternoon and report the resolution out, in which event the House could act upon it tomorrow. As a result, the financial famine now faced by the government agencies may be terminated by Friday.

A new projector will be in use for the first time this semester which will supplement the visual aid program of the township school system.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Western Germany's chances of admission to the council of Europe were increased greatly today by the general elections of Sunday which sent the Communists reeling in another major defeat.

But long and bitter debate may be anticipated. Deep fear and distrust of Germany remain in many quarters, unallayed by the facts of her utter military paralysis and sweeping denazification.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France has made something of a cautious commitment that may have sharp repercussions.

In Principle

In a statement issued at Strasbourg, where the consultative assembly of the European council is in session, Schuman said that the French government favors the admission of Germany "in principle."

Significantly, he did not say that France as a whole favors it. He added that the government would make no definite move at all until the French national assembly has an opportunity to debate the matter in detail.

Schuman's declaration, however, must have been of considerable satisfaction to former Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

One of the leading figures in creation of the council, Churchill firmly believes that neither the council nor any revitalized Europe can succeed or last without full German participation.

His views are shared by many. But they also are bitterly opposed by numerous influential persons and groups in and out of parliament.

Opponents Arguments

As against the thesis that Germany is the natural heart and core of European industry, opponents of German participation in the council present these arguments:

1—Despite denazification, German nationalism is still strong. This angle was confirmed by Sunday's election itself. While the anti-Communist balloting was welcomed in all democratic nations, some quarters expressed concern over the almost extreme rightism of the voting.

2—It is still too early to expect...

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STAGE OF SPEECH DEVELOPMENT IMPORTANT TO SCHOOL SUCCESS

How well the child's speech has been developed by the time he enters school will bear a close relation to his success at school. The child who has infantile speech is greatly handicapped. If he talks as many other children talk at two or three, other children will notice his speech and tend to treat him as a child much younger than he is. Surely the teacher will consider him very immature.

Nearly always this youngster has been a mama's child, as dependent on her as if he were only two or three. His parents and relatives may have treated his baby-like expressions as "cute," even repeating them after him or talking to him as he talks to them. He usually has not played freely with other children of his age. If he has had playmates they probably have been older or younger than he is. Whereas the young child who mingles almost solely with adults may be advanced in speech (especially in vocabulary and good manner), some children under these conditions may speak in a very babyish fashion.

Certain Sounds

Many children on beginning speech have trouble with certain sounds. Samples of such difficulties are d for g, t for c, ch for f, b for v. If these children have not gradually overcome these difficulties before entering school, they are handicapped, since such speech errors class them as infants.

If your child, about to enter school, has some speech difficulties, don't get panicky and try to make him over all at once. If you do you will make him self-conscious and cause him to appear more infantile than he has appeared up to now. Plan a slow patient program. Hold yourself to speak more distinctly in his presence. Often read to him, especially from nursery rhymes that contain these troublesome sounds (My bulletins, "The Young Child's Speech" and "Your Child and His Playmates" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper).

Correct Sound

Occasionally you should say the correct sound after him nonchalantly but not insist that he repeat after you. But to succeed you must use infinite patience, tact and wisdom in order to make him want to cooperate with you. Better not try to correct him when others are present or when he is earnestly telling you something. Indeed, you should never interrupt him or break in on his sentence. When you feel very calm and affectionate toward him and he good-natured, gently repeat clearly the correct sound or word, at the end of his sentence or remarks. Show strong pleasure as he succeeds, but no pleasure as he fails. You even might induce him to look into a mirror at your mouth and his as you and he in a kind of game make those sounds which are hard for him.

You will do most to cause this child to want to speak distinctly as you help him grow more self-reliant physically and emotionally. A part of his growth will be his increasing enjoyment with other children of his age.

In case he stutters (not a mark of infantility), you should not stop him or correct him but work chiefly on yourself to create a very serene and comfortable atmosphere for him. Also you should plan a calmer program for him. It is fortunate if this child has a very serene, patient, sympathetic teacher who in turn has the help of a speech expert at school. (My bulletins, "The Young Child Who Stutters" and "The Nervous Child" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 236 East 45th street, New York City.)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Here it is... past the middle of August... not much time until the Fall rains and the snows start... maybe you think it will be some time, but before you know it summer will be over... The middle of August and nothing has been done about the ruins of the Central Presbyterian Church building... right on the main street of our town... doesn't show from the front side too much but the side and rear is exposed and such an unsightly mess... Other buildings have been burned... and in a short time the debris has been cleared away... Why hasn't the same been done on this particular property? We are told that our present District Attorney heads the committee from the church governing this matter!

City Council and the Mayor have the right to condemn property that is considered a public nuisance... in the past buildings have been removed from various sections in order that public safety may be retained.

There is another piece of property that could stand some investigation... located on Boyles avenue... to the west of Highland... an old apartment house that is an eye sore and could easily be a breeder of rodents. Surely there is some way the owners could be induced to clear up this situation.

And while talking about preserving the beauty and health of our town... here is an item on how to preserve a husband... written by one who is single... "Be careful in your selection. Do not choose too young and take only such varieties as have been reared in a good moral atmosphere. When once decided upon and selected, let that part remain forever settled, and give your entire thought to preparation for domestic use. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others are constantly getting them into hot water. Even poor varieties may be sweet, tender, and good, by garnishing them with patience and well sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses... to taste, the wrap well in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion, and serve with peaches and cream. When thus prepared they will keep for years." Ed. note: (wait until the little women read that!)

What is a capitalist? asks an exchange. He's the guy who got us into all the trouble by making the country prosperous.

We now have the days when the leather-lunged citizen can get a new deal by simply yelling "take 'em out!"

Speaking of long range offensives, the August sun is currently supplying quite a notable example.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Calls Vaughan Bumptious

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Major Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the president's military aide, is an ideal target for these hot weather days in the political shooting gallery. He is big, bumptious, loud, bespangled with medals.

His capacity to put his foot in his mouth appears to be unlimited. The outsider, hearing the ping, ping, ping as the congressional sharpshooters hit the target, wonders why the president tolerates him.

This is an inside view. It is the explanation of those who have watched Vaughan develop into a front-page figure to the intense disfigurement of all concerned, including and most particularly the general himself.

Good Natured

You begin with the Vaughan temperament. Vaughan displays to his intimates the good-natured friendliness of a Newfoundland dog. He wants to be patted, to be admired, and the only difficulty is

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Oscar Wilde's famous remark to the customs officer when he embarked—"I have nothing to declare except my genius"—started him on the wrong foot in this country, and his get-up, including flowing locks, knee breeches and silk stockings, with a big, cornflower or gilded lily ostentatiously tucked derisive hoots wherever he appeared.

New York found the original Oscar's posturing ridiculous. In Boston, the Harvard student body came to his lecture en masse in exaggerated versions of his customary dress. At a party later the nettled Mr. Wilde observed, "You Americans are Philistines who have invaded the sacred temple of art." "And you," answered the host, "are trying to drive us forth with the javeline of an ass." A rather silly lady sat next to Wilde and confided that she never traveled without her diary. "Quite the thing to do," Wilde assured her. "It's always good to have something sensational to read on the train." No one to waste choice lines, he later incorporated this dialogue into "The Importance of Being Earnest."

When he returned to London, Wilde insisted, "America really was discovered by a dozen people before Columbus, but it always was successfully hushed up." He added, "Democracy means simply the bludgeoning of the people by the people for the people," and topped his remarks with another sally that he later used in a play: "When good Americans die they go to Paris, when bad Americans die they go to America." A SPIDER IN THE PAPER

Many years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if that was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores or any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand as against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could long charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its own purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

Salesmanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy running. Advertising is the heart of it.

It pays to be a woman in Louisville, Colo. For there, according to the Municipal Finance Officers' association, a "male tax" of $3 a year is levied against all males between 21 and 60 (except veterans and firemen). Those who fail to pay may work out the tax—at 75 cents an hour.

Another Hoover Report

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—Mr. Herbert Hoover is, among other things, quite a test-case for a pair of opposing philosophies which I used to hear expounded during the war. At Headquarters, 2nd Air Division in Britain, there was an American mathematics professor who could manipulate a slide rule and thereby calculate anybody's chances of living through a particular combat mission. But there was also a grizzled British liaison officer who contended that mathematics didn't count, that nobody ever died until his life's destiny had been fulfilled.

Well, Mr. Hoover at 75 has outsmarted the slide rules. Mathematically speaking, a man born back in 1874 and an ex-president defeated in 1932 ought to be extinct—but Mr. Hoover is not. Quite the contrary, he is the hale and hearty proof of the other philosophy—a man who has lived on because he has much to live for.

Opposed Him Once

If I come now to praise Mr. Hoover and not to bury his memory, this was not always my purpose. Like many persons who cast their first presidential vote in 1932, I used to regard him as the symbol of let-em-eat-cake reactionism. My own cake, as it happened, was always well baked and on the table, so this was not personal spite. But it puckered my youthful indignations to visualize Mr. Hoover looting the White House, literally next door to the Treasury Department, while bonus marchers and the unemployed were suffering in the streets.

I know now that this was a fiction of the opposition party—a very long-lived fiction, too. Not long ago I lunched with Senator Hubert Humphrey, aged 38, a sincere Democrat of the New Deal generation. He was saying that for years he'd campaigned in Minnesota on a down-with-Hoover platform. But since coming to Washington, said Senator Humphrey, he'd had the honor to meet Mr. Hoover and now wished he'd been less rough on the ex-President. A lot of us, I think, have these regrets, but they need not disturb us too much. Mr. Hoover remains unharmed by the maledictions heaped upon him. His stature, if anything, has grown under the buffeting of adverse criticism.

As for Mr. Hoover's destiny, I am willing to believe that he is fulfilling it now. A kindly fate has preserved him to warn us against the perils of collectivism. His birthday speech, delivered just a week ago from Palo Alto, California, is being compared with George Washington's farewell address. This is not a far-fetched comparison. Both speeches came from men of broad experience and with no axes to grind. Both were delivered in perfect taste of their times. Mr. Hoover's was pungent and had flashes of humor which George Washington's 18th Century dignity forbade.

Two Advantages

And Mr. Hoover had two other advantages over the first ex-President. He was able to use statistics (a fairly modern ingredient of speech making) and to cite a contemporary example of what the U. S. oughtn't to become. About one out of every seven Americans, said Mr. Hoover, is regularly receiving the Federal dollar. Every worker in the U. S. labors about 61 days a year to pay his taxes. Will these taxes buy Americans a higher living standard? The example of Socialist Britain, said Mr. Hoover, should be a "sufficient spectacle" to expose even Democratic collectivism. "It aims at a fuller life, but it ends in a ration."

No man with political ambitions could have spoken as frankly as that. His party leaders would renounce him. Too many voters are on the public payroll. Too many politicians are afraid to separate liberalism from paternalism.

Shouldn't Go Bankrupt

But Mr. Hoover, himself a humanitarian, is saying that a man can favor "socialism" without believing that the government should bankrupt itself and regiment its citizens to supply it. Mr. Hoover is saying that the country is being swindled by false promises and cheap sentimentalism. He is saying that New Dealism is like the famous operation which was successful but the patient died.

By the slide-rule mathematics of politics, Mr. Hoover oughtn't to be saying such things. He's too old and too discredited a leader. But by the mystic laws of destiny, he is still here and still talking. That's because he's saying something important for the country to hear.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

What is a bargain?

A friend of mine just told me of one—a tremendous bargain, as the real estate man assured him. My friend is looking for a house. So he scanned the classified columns of his newspaper and found this house described.

Oh, what a house it is, according to the ad!

The ad particularly stressed its quaint charm for a writer or artist who wants privacy and seclusion. My friend isn't a writer or artist. And he hasn't looked at houses as much as I and my house-hunting spouse.

So he didn't know that, usually, when a house is advertised as especially suitable for a writer or artist, it means that no sane person with any business sense would buy it.

It usually means that it is on a dirty road, that it has lovely shrubbery and trees but terrible plumbing, and that only someone who is as crazy as real estate people think writers and artists are, would buy it.

My friend went to see the real estate broker who advertised the house.

On the way the broker raved about the place.

"One of the greatest bargains I ever had on my list. And what a home."

The owner has to leave town. So, for a quick sale, he has authorized me to reduce the price from $30,000 to $27,500. Just imagine!"

They drove up in front of the place.

It looked familiar.

Then my friend remembered. He had been in that house eight years earlier to collect a $50 debt from the fellow who lived there then.

My friend acted duly charmed and told the real estate man he'd think it over.

He located the fellow who had lived there, and who still owed him half of the $50.

"How much did you pay for that house?" he asked.

"Twelve thousand dollars, and I got stuck," said the chap.

That $12,000 house had gone up and up in price—and now at $27,500, it was called a bargain!

Just like a lot of other things called bargains these days when

What, then, IS a bargain?

A bargain is something that you would want at its regular price but can not afford or do not feel justified to buy at that price.

Then it is bought within the scope of your purse and of your common sense.

That is a bargain.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan (By International News Service)

Attempts to marry off Vice President Barkley are not getting anywhere... We may have to get the fellow who is handling Ingrid Bergman and move the whole thing to Stromboli for results.

But every man should have someone to whom he can tell his troubles, and Alben's got 'em in the Senate.

And he's a good catch for any woman... Democratic vice presidents have greater security than any other vice presidents in the country provided they don't start talking like Henry Wallace.

Henry hasn't been talking at all recently... He's busy developing a hybrid chicken to eat his hybrid corn.

His last experiment was with hybrid voters... That didn't do so well.

When Henry sticks to breeding eatin' corn he does remarkably well but he's never had a very good market for his talkin' corn.

Wonder how many laughs "good old Joe" has gotten out of President Truman's conduct with respect to Harry Bridges' Hawaiian longshoreman's strike?

State Announces Agreement To Buy Two Toll Bridges

Signals Acceleration Of Program To Free 10 Toll Bridges In State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Agreements to purchase two toll bridges over the Susquehanna river for $4,387,000 Tuesday signaled acceleration of the state's program to free 10 such spans throughout Pennsylvania.

The State Highways department said the price of the Market Street bridge at Harrisburg had been pegged at $3,850,000 and the cost of the Clarks Ferry bridge at $537,000.

The agreements were the first in the campaign to free the toll bridges under a $10,000,000 bond issue approved by the electorate.

The department has agreed to buy all outstanding shares of stock of the Market Street bridge and outstanding stock and $162,000 of outstanding obligations of the Clarks Ferry Bridge company, Secretary Ray F. Smock said.

Six Other Bridges

He said negotiations have progressed for purchase of six other bridges and conferences were expected to begin on the remaining two in the near future.

Formal state possession of both bridges will be taken as soon as proceeds of the bond issue are made available "soon after October 1."

"Progress is being made toward acquisition of the toll bridges at Walnut street in Harrisburg; Sunbury, Allentown, Ellwood City."

"Discussions will soon be started with the owners of the Point Marion and Monessen-Charleroi spans," he declared.

"The initial contacts indicate that amicable agreements may be reached on the purchase of all bridges," he declared.

Smock said "present indications are that bonds in the amount of $8,500,000 of an authorized issue of $10,000,000 will be marketed about October 1."

He indicated it may not be necessary to acquire any of the toll bridges through legal procedures of eminent domain.

Mitchell Killer To Be Arraigned

ATLANTA, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Atlanta police today said the driver who struck down Margaret Mitchell will be arrested on a manslaughter warrant issued by the sheriff of Fulton county.

They said that Hugh R. Gravit, 29, will be placed in the Fulton county jail within a few hours of the famed novelist's death at noon today.

He was released from the Atlanta city jail Saturday on a $5,450 bond.

Gravit, a taxi driver with a record of 24 traffic offenses during the past five years, already faces Atlanta police charges of drunken driving, speeding, reckless driving, and several other minor counts.

If convicted of the manslaughter charge, Gravit will face a sentence of one to three years in prison.

W. E. Erk Announces For City Council

Third Ward Railroader To Seek Republican Nomination At September Primary

WILLIAM E. ERK

To the Citizens of New Castle:

I wish to announce that I shall be a candidate in the coming primary election Tuesday, September 13, 1949, on the Republican ticket.

I was born in Pittsburgh on January 24, 1889, and came to New Castle 41 years ago. I am married and have four children. I live and own property at 730 County Line street in the third ward of this city.

I am a machinist by trade, and I have had office and contracting experience. On August 10, 1912, I was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company E&A division as a brakeman, and later was promoted to a conductor. I am still employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and have now been for over 37 years.

I am against the wage tax and for economy, and am against the present extravagant expenditure of the taxpayers' money. I am interested in the welfare and progress of the city of New Castle, and I shall not be obligated to any political machine.

The present council had a committee appointed to figure out how much it would take to run this city and where they were going to get the money. They placed 10 mills or 1% on your wages, and no one is supposed to be exempted. The people living in the five townships adjoining the city of New Castle and who work in New Castle and receive their pay in this city, together with all other people who work in the city of New Castle but live outside the city limits, will have to pay the 10 mills or 1%. Again no one is supposed to be exempted.

Now let us see what happened. Five months go by and the school board met. They said they would have to have some money so as to increase the teachers' salaries and pay other expenses, and I agree that the teachers need an increase the same as you and I.

They were going to place a sales tax on each and everyone of us until the businessmen protested this tax.

The council met and gave the school board four mills out of their 10 mill levy. If it takes 10 mills to run the city and they gave the school board four mills, you are going to get an increase on your property taxes or some other tax in 1950; and if it does not take 10 mills to run the city, but only takes six mills, what was going to become of the extra four mills?

Now for the economy and enormous spending. They are spending $29,000 for a new hook and ladder; $1529.75 for police cars; $825.00 for a Crosley car for the collection of money out of the meter boxes. Where a bus pass costs $1 a week or a total of $52 for 52 weeks or a year, how long would it take to use up $825.00 in bus passes? Would it not be several years longer than what the Crosley car would last?

The wage tax money should be collected by our city treasurer, which would save considerable money in salaries and the taxpayers' money. And what about the cost of the new equipment which the present council expects to put in the new city building which they have been building cost the taxpayers an enormous amount of money.

The budget for the year of 1948, bill No. 48, is: Total expenditures $893,550.01, and a total miscellaneous expenditures of $42,650.00. The budget for the year of 1949, bill No. 51, is: Total expenditures $1,109,551.35, and miscellaneous expenditures are $75,000.00.

1949 total expenditures $1,109,551.35
1948 total expenditures 893,550.01

Increase 216,001.34

1949 miscellaneous expenditures $ 75,000.00
1948 miscellaneous expenditures 42,650.00

Increase 32,350.00

What will the year 1950 cost? Do we need a change?

There are a large number of people who have not made a wage tax form out and I have been informed that they are going to create some more new jobs which they expect to call the "Investigators", whose salaries will have to be paid by the taxpayers.

There is about $100,000 which is not paid in personal taxes for a few years back, and the 1948 personal tax filed at the end of June or the first of July is $13,893.90.

I believe that with labor representation in the council it would be most helpful to plan its future progress.

I believe that a good many of the trips to Harrisburg and to other cities can be done with a 3c postage stamp.

I have been informed that the city of Erie, represented by Mayor Martin, is going to abandon the wage tax for the year of 1950.

If, after a fair consideration, you feel I can help you and save you money, I will be grateful for your support.

Fails To Set Speed Record

LAKE CONISTON, Eng., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Donald Campbell, son of the late speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell, failed today in two attempts to break his father's world water speed record.

The 28-year-old speedboat enthusiast averaged 135.34 miles per hour in two runs over Lake Coniston. Sir Malcolm's record, set in 1939, is 141.74 m.p.h.

Young Campbell used the same famed "Blue Bird" speedboat with which his father set the world mark, but the boat was refitted with a Rolls-Royce engine.

After his second run, Campbell abandoned any further attempts because of a damaged gear.

The earliest library of Oxford university, England, was in existence in 1337. The famed Bodleian Library of Oxford was founded in 1598 and endowed in 1611 by Sir Thomas Bodley. From its original 2000 volumes, it has grown to more than 1,250,000.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB
(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Open letter to the presidents of America's domestic airlines:

Gentlemen:
I hear you are toying with the idea of making the wild blue yonder even wilder.

My authority is that monument of probity, "The Wall Street Journal," which says "Scotch-in-the-sky may be added by domestic airlines."

It goes on to say that some of you boys are hot to turn your nice, big passenger planes into flying saloons, despite the fact "an airlines official figures one Scotch has the potency of two at 10,000 feet altitude in unpressurized planes."

Gentlemen, stop fussing about your altitude and get help to your passengers' attitude. If you want to slit your own throats, this is a free country.

But—I beg you to remember: that galloping pool you people took among your paying passengers on this same subject about eight to ten years ago.

The answer was "no, no, a thousand times no!" I don't passenger-ship has changed substantially in the meantime. Me, for instance, I am a lady who likes her licker on land. But you start passing the bourbon in the Em-pyrean, and I bail out and walk back even at 20,000 feet.

You set up a bar and a brass rail in the cabin of your liners, and you lose the trade of this paying customer who has, just possibly, chalked up more aerial mileage than any other feminine traveler with the exception of a Mrs. Roosevelt, who seems to hold the record.

One of the reasons that thousands of American travelers go by air now as casually as we once went by street car is because of our overwhelming confidence not only in your skill but in your sobriety and dedication to the job.

Gas and Alcohol
But you start fouling up your cabins with fumes other than gasoline, and in a matter of weeks you will be unable to control the rumor—no matter how false—that the crew as well as the customers are groggy.

You have spent years and millions of dollars in building up public confidence in your integrity and the stability of your crew. This is no time to let the flaps down.

Less than a week ago my mother, a lady of 77 summers, who will not thank me for saying so in print, flew from Boise, Idaho, to New York. One of the reasons her kink in the solemn conclave decided to let her fly was a feeling of complete trust in the airline and its hostesses.

But if stewards and hostesses from now on are going to have to rush the growler for any fugitive from Alcoholics Anonymous who climbs aboard, then, please, include me and mine out.

It was once an unwritten rule at all airports, and as far as I know it still is, that any customer in a pixilated condition was summarily denied permission to board a plane. I see no point then in changing the rules to let him get crooked once he's in the clouds.

Sure, I've been on European planes where they served wine. And when the chief pilot came back for a mug of champagne, I would like to have died, gentlemen. I got out at the next airport and hired a car to take me to my destination.

Drinkers Sick
I have seen cocktails served on American trans-Atlantic airliners.

match! But I didn't like it, especially when we had heavy weather and the drinkers, to put it bluntly, were sick as dogs.

I never touch the stuff myself—in the air. I have never known a doctor who made a study of medicine in connection with aviation who didn't say that alcohol and altitude don't mix.

Nothing affrights me more than to be crowded into the same corner with Carrie Nation. But I don't want any fizz water in the firmament, and that's that.

Gentlemen, I warn you: The day you bring me in on a wine and a Moscow mule is the day I go back to the choo-choo!

President Truman Invited To Attend AFL Demonstration

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—(INS)—President Truman had an invitation Tuesday to participate in a giant Labor Day demonstration against the Taft-Hartley Act in Pittsburgh.

More than 50,000 AFL members in the Pittsburgh district are to parade that day in protest against what AFL leaders have termed legislation restricting unions.

In a letter to the president, the Pittsburgh Central Labor Union and Joint Council 40, Brotherhood of Teamsters, asked him to review the parade.

President Truman already is committed to speak at the Allegheny County Fair in nearby South Park at noon on Labor Day.

GETS "CRYING TOWEL"
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, now has a "crying towel," sent by a kidding well-wisher.

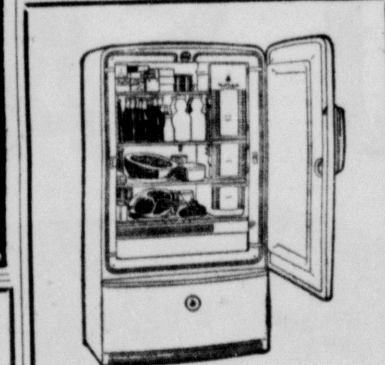

Ross has had his own difficulties in trying to straighten out the difficulties of the president's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, in the five per cent investigation.

Ross was quite amused when the gag was received. It was a small black bordered towel bearing the inscription: "I have been touched by your troubles—please cry on me."

THOMAS QUINN, field representative of CIO-United Electrical Workers union in the Pittsburgh, Pa., area, refuses to state for the House un-American activities committee whether he is or is not a Communist. Quinn said: "I don't feel I am hiding behind the Constitution, but that I am standing in front of it, protecting it, small as I may be." Committee is probing alleged Red infiltration into the union. ## Crop Insurance Act Expanded 50 Percent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Congress has approved and sent to the White House a 50 per cent expansion of the 1950 government crop insurance program.

The expansion bill will permit insurance to be written next year in 300 wheat, 84 cotton, 75 corn, 50 flax and 35 tobacco counties, as compared to 200 wheat, 56 cotton, 50 corn, 50 flax and 35 tobacco counties this year.

Further expansion is permitted by the bill annually until wheat, for example, may be insured in 600 counties in 1953.

The program is designed to protect farmers from loss up to their actual production costs. No guarantee is made of profits.

The Farmers' Home administration reports that it helped more than 322,000 farm families to improve living standards in the past year.

New FHA farm loans or insurance or private credit were extended to about 82,400 farm families in the past 12 months.

The agency also loaned more than 93 million dollars to help 125,354 farmers improve operation of their land; it extended and insured loans of more than 23 million for farm purchase or improvement; loaned one million 309 dollars for water facilities, and put up $2,644,527 for flood, drought and blizzard recovery.

The Department of Agriculture reports that a substantial increase was made in fiscal 1949, ending last June 30, in the total number of calves vaccinated against brucellosis (bang's disease).

Preliminary survey figures show that the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry and various state live-stock agencies blood tested 5,671,347 cattle, 236,555 more than in 1948, and 1,573,128 calves were vaccinated with brucella vaccine, strain 19. This is 413,801 more than were so treated the previous year.

Wisconsin and New York lead in vaccinations, while Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Wisconsin lead in blood testing.

The department's tuberculosis eradication project tested 8,737,501 cattle, slightly more than in fiscal 1948, and found the same low tuberculosis figure of .19 per cent of cattle tested as was recorded in previous years. In no state did infected cattle reach as much as one per cent of the total herd.

Tobacco farmers see some cause for alarm in a slump in cigarette, cigar and pipe tobacco retail sales, which were reported by the Census Bureau to be one per cent below their June 1948 figures in June 1949. Wholesale sales also reported a one per cent slump in tobacco sales.

Idled Worker Develops Interesting Home Hobby

"Idle hands find evil things to do" may be a saying from days gone by, but not in the case of Robert Mays, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Schetrom, 223 Scott street.

Mr. Mays, an idled railroad worker, didn't relish the idea of just sitting around and waiting a call back to his job on the railroad so he developed an interesting hobby, one that not only helped fill the time but one that has brought pleasure to many youngsters about the city and compliments from many quarters.

Hobbyist Mays with the aid of a jig-saw, some lumber and paint and a few other assorted tools may be found busily engaged in making ornamental lawn figures almost every day on the back porch or yard of the Schetrom home in the Croton section.

Most of his unique creations, which are original as far as the idea is concerned, center around and when the wind blows, look as though they are running across the lawn. Among the other ideas which Mr. Mays has developed and displayed on the grass include: fisherman, doll with umbrella, little chicks, birds, woodpecker, dog and cat, birdbath, running rabbit and many, many other interesting items.

The latest idea of Mr. Mays which will be developed will be an animated scarecrow which will not doubt be a welcome item for farmers who have difficulty in keeping the crows out of the young corn in the spring. The idea is not original, but the finished item will be new in this section of the country. Mr. Mays invites anyone to Scott street to view his original creations.

Water that has been heated will freeze quicker than water that has not.

Rev. Fr. S. Ippolito
Makes Trip To Italy

First Vacation Since Coming To Pastorate In 1933; Will Visit
Family For Three Months

On Thursday Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, pastor of St. Lucy's church, Mahoningtown, will leave for New York City and sail on Saturday at noon aboard the steamship Vulcanica for Naples, Italy.

Rev. Ippolito is bound for S. Arsenio in the Province of Salerno and expects to be gone three months. He will visit with his six sisters and one brother.

This is the first vacation for Rev. Ippolito since coming to the pastorate of St. Lucy's church in August, 1933. After a much delayed vacation he is making the trip for the benefit of his health and to visit with his family.

First trip back to Italy was made by Rev. Ippolito in 1929 because of the serious illness of his mother, when he made a stay of four months. His second visit was in 1932, remaining in Italy for 18 months, returning in August, 1933, and coming to Mahoningtown.

During the absence of Rev. Ippolito, Rev. Fr. Gabriel Coiro will be in charge of the pastorate with Rev. Fr. Stanislaus J. Zachewicz, assistant pastor.

On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer of Mt. Jackson road entertained, in honor of their son Bobby's twelfth birthday anniversary.

After a period of reminiscing, a lunch was served by the hostess. The honored guest received some nice gifts, and a purse of money. The group adjourned to a theater party.

On Thursday evening, the quarterly conference of Mahoning Methodist church, will be held at 8 o'clock, in the church parlors, with Dr. T. H. Morris, superintendent of Grove City district, presiding. Meeting is open to all officials of the church.

This is the final meeting before the annual conference, to take place September 7 to 11, at Allegheny College, Meadville.

Committees will make their reports and officials will be confirmed for the ensuing year. The lay delegate to the annual conference will be named.

On Tuesday, a number of members of the congregation and Sunday school, attended the sub-district Methodist picnic at Cascade Park.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Domenico of 316 West Madison avenue, about 25 young folks attended a lawn party given on Tuesday afternoon. The occasion was in honor of the former's daughter Maxine's seventh birthday anniversary.

The youngsters enjoyed various games, and prizes were distributed among them.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, on tables nicely decorated, and graced with a lovely three tiered birthday cake, baked by the hostess.

Those assisting in serving were: Mrs. Doris McCool of Warren, Pa., Mrs. D. A. Pagley, Mrs. Elvira Bardash, Mrs. Arlene Gallagher, Mrs. Mary Zumpella.

Maxine received many nice gifts, and a purse of money.

Trackman Suffers Injuries of Face

Guiseppi Conti, aged 20 years, of rear 508 S. Jefferson street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Tuesday morning, for injuries received at his work as a track laborer for the P. and L. E. railroad.

Mr. Conti was using a track jack, when it slipped and the bar struck him on the chin, inflicting lacerations of the chin and tongue.

Members of the Bridge Club will gather on Thursday in Cascade Park, where they will have a basket picnic.

On Friday evening, the Women's Society of Christian Service, of Simpson Methodist church, will meet at the summer cottage of Mrs. Wallace Shaffer, for a wiener, corn and marshmallow roast.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Syracuse, N. Y., and daughters Mary Beth and Cynthia, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Reynolds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace, of Mt. Jackson road.

Mrs. Paul Rhea and children Gennie, Sandra, and Sylvia, of Nashville, Tenn., have returned, after concluding a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Scheidtmann, of Fifth street. Mrs. Rhea is a niece of Mrs. Scheidtmann.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jones, of Newell avenue, have returned, after a two weeks vacation trip. They visited with their daughters, and son-in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fugitt of Barborton, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Knight and son, David, of Warren, Ohio.

Wire Tapping Reveals Incriminating Deals

By BARNEY COHAN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Revelation that Los Angeles police built secret microphones into the walls of mobster Mickey Cohen's fortress-like home more than two years ago brought indications Tuesday of sensational repercussions.

Police stationed at listening posts for nearly a year obtained incriminating recordings and hundreds of pages of transcript of highly explosive conversations in the gangster kingpin's elaborate $120,000 Brentwood residence.

Telephone conversations between Cohen and his gangland connections in New York, Miami, Boston, San Francisco, Cleveland and numerous other cities indicated the wide scope of Cohen's activities.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron and Police Chief W. A. Worton admitted copies of the information obtained have been placed in their hands.

International News Service learned the recordings and transcripts cover a period from April 13, 1947 to March 17, 1948. They point to a multi-million dollar set-up involving top-drawer names of the underworld officialdom motion pictures and the civic and business world.

The material may have national and perhaps even international implications. The records and transcripts contain discussions of big money deals, including an $8,000,000 proposition in Las Vegas, Nev., and a $4,000,000 venture. Subjects of conversation involve payoffs and "fixes" of police, sheriff's officers, the district attorney's office, and even "the state."

One discussion involved the possibility of fixing a prize fight staged "for charity." There was talk of bookmaking, of betting on horse races and football games and of gambling operations.

Further Plans
For Centennial

Anniversary Dinner Program Is Being Shaped Up By Committee

MANY DIVORCES
ARE HANDED DOWN

Plans for the centennial of Lawrence county, which will be observed on September 1, are beginning to take definite shape, with a dinner meeting in the Cathedral the chief item of the anniversary program.

While definite assurance has not yet been received that Senator Edward Martin can be present for the occasion, a tentative acceptance has been received, and the committee, which is headed by Judge W. Walter Braham, is hopeful that he can give them definite assurance in a few days that he will be here and speak.

A meeting of the committee was held at the court house, Tuesday afternoon, when more of the details of the dinner program were worked out. Judge Braham will serve as toastmaster. Attorney Robert McKinney White, city solicitor, is arranging a history of the county, which he will give at the dinner meeting. Attorney White is a member of an old local family and knows a great deal about Lawrence county history.

Music will be presented during the evening's dinner program by the local "Barber Shop" singers.

Coen, who will release them at the sportsmen's farm at The Harbor.

ORDER OF COURT

In the divorce action of Grover C. Hoover, vs. Mae Etta Hoover, an order was handed down by Judge John G. Lamoree, in the request for counsel fees. The petition, and answer thereto having been regularly filed, the case was placed on the argument list, and was called, at which time no testimony was offered by either parties. The matter was therefore left before the court, on petition and answer, and Judge Lamoree ruled that by reason of the fact that no testimony was offered, no order will be made respecting the petition and answer until the hearing in divorce is completed.

Congressmen Believe Air Power And Bombs Surer Way Than Arms-Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Four House Foreign Affairs committee members declared Tuesday that U. S. air power and the atomic bomb will do more to halt Russian aggression than the proposed arms-aid program.

The four congressmen in a minority report on the administration's military assistance bill declared that they were unwilling to go more than "half way" in approving arms aid for western Europe.

The four—Reps. Richards (D) S. C., Vorys (R) Ohio, Judd (R) Minn., and Burleson (D) Texas—declared: "The only security for western Europe lies in resolute, concerted, agreed defense plans and an organization prepared in advance. No such plan is now in existence."

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17.—This is Hollywood, Mister Jones!—Stuntman Wally Cassell will settle for a nice easy war and leave jitterbugging to more rugged characters.

Wally, who is a sturdy five-foot ten, spent three weeks on location at Camp Pendleton Marine Base being bombed, strafed, blown up and almost drowned during invasion scenes for Republic's "Sands of Iwo Jima." He suffered nary a scratch for his efforts.

Sherman Wrong
First day back at the studio he was called up to perform a jitterbug scene with glamorous Dorothy Ford, the six-foot three-inch lovely.

The dance ended with Dorothy tossing Wally over her shoulder and flat on the back of his lap. When he regained consciousness, he owned a king-sized bump on his noggin and a badly sprained back.

"General Sherman," moaned Wally, "was wrong. It ain't war—it's jitterbugging that's hit!"

HUNT SUPER-MULE

Movie talent scouts today launched a nationwide search for a super-mule to fight Indians.

Seems as how Randy Scott needs the aid of a jackass to turn the tide of a battle, after fierce Chieftain Indian warriors ambush his hunting party in a scene for Nat Holt's "Cariboo Trail."

The script calls for the beast to lash out with flying hoofs and rout the Redskins.

Holt, claiming that all Hollywood mules are faded critters, lacking courage under fire, invites any owners anywhere to show him a picture of the critter. The uglier the critter, the better.

LAUREN AND KIRK

The meeting of a lot of persons were awaiting took place today on the set of "Warners' Young Man With A Horn" when Lauren Bacall had her first film scene with Kirk Douglas.

Miss Bacall is credited with giving Douglas the shove that landed him in movietown three semesters ago. Already a star, she touted a producer on a young guy back in Gotham with whom she had gone to dramatic school.

The producer looked him up, signed him up and now Kirk is hotter than a $2 pistol.

"Believe me," said Lauren, "we'll never play any better scenes than we did while plotting our futures at corner drug stores in New York."

Hey Humphrey Look
Then they got to work on today's scene. It was a rough, tough personal brawl that is liable to be one of next season's most dramatic sequences.

And when they finished beating billybadamb out of each other, Lauren Bacall and Kirk Douglas kissed each other friendly-like to prove they still are buddies.

West Virginia Man Blows Self To Bits Over Domestic Ills

HOLCOMB, W. Va., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Austin Starcher, 22, blew himself to bits with five sticks of dynamite Tuesday at his home in Holcomb.

Two friends who were visiting the young man were injured by the blast, one of them seriously.

Starcher blew himself up because of domestic troubles, State Trooper Glen Starcher (no relation) said. His wife had taken their baby and gone to the home of Austin Starcher's mother several days ago.

It was the second dynamite suicide resulting from domestic troubles in the area in the last 17 days. July 31 Duane Secrest, 41, blew up his automobile with a case of dynamite to end his life at Clarksburg.

His estranged wife, who was injured seriously, and scores of houses in the town were damaged extensively.

Okey Justice, 24, of Cowen was in the Richwood hospital with head and chest injuries as a result of the explosion today. He was unconscious. His brother, Orville Justice, 27, was injured slightly.

Orville Justice told the state trooper that Austin Starcher first threatened to blow up his mother and his wife, then threatened to take his own life "like that fellow down at Clarksburg."

The Justice brothers did not take the threat seriously, although Orville took two guns away from Starcher a short while before the explosion.

Okey Justice was pierced by many splinters from the house, which was damaged extensively.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"The Unknown Age"

The years from six to 12 are ones about which we know comparatively little. Many studies have been made of pre-school children. Much has been written about adolescence. For some reason, however, we've steered clear of the "middle years." They've even been known as the "period of latency"—a time when nothing much that is interesting or dramatic is supposed to happen.

Anyone who has watched the way boys and girls of these ages associate themselves in gangs and clubs has marvelled at the physical skills they work so hard to develop or has seen the variety of hobbies that are followed. He knows that much is happening. Still, we feel "stumped" because so often these six-to-twelve-year-olds don't reveal their thoughts, bare their problems or seek adult companionship as much as either pre-school or adolescent youngsters.

A recent publication of the Children's Bureau in Washington, D. C. has gathered together in an effective way some of the things we do know about this age group. It is called simply "Your Child from Six to Twelve", and can be obtained by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. (Distributed by United Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Nearly seventy per cent of the exports from Bolivia are tin.

Yale Scientists Isolate UN Virus

Believe Virus Caused Disease Wrongfully Classified As Polio

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Yale university scientists announced on Tuesday the isolation of a virus which causes a disease similar to polio, but which does not leave its victims paralyzed.

The isolation of the virus was disclosed in the current issue of the proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. The article was written by Joseph L. Melnick, associate professor of microbiology, Ernest W. Shaw, National Research Council fellow in medical sciences, and Edward C. Curnen, associate professor of pediatrics and preventive medicine.

The virus was isolated as a result of studies of the 1948 polio outbreaks in southern New England, North Carolina and Texas. The finding confirms a discovery originally made at the New York State Department of Health laboratories. The unnamed virus was found in patients suffering from the polio-like disease, all of whom recovered in approximately ten days without harmful effects. Many of the cases had been diagnosed wrongly as polio.

Professor Melnick said the new virus probably caused a large number of cases wrongly classified as polio in 1948. He held out hope that the detection of the virus may provide physicians with "a valuable new tool for specific diagnosis."

Vets' Spokesman Against Sales Tax

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—(INS)—A spokesman for the Joint Veterans Council today flatly supported revision of taxes to underwrite the cost of the proposed half-billion dollar bonus for World War II veterans.

"We think the present program must be adjusted to pay for the bonus just as it was adjusted to pay for stream clearance and other stat. projects," said Legislative Chairman Joseph Gelman.

He reported no support for a sales tax to finance the bonus.

The council represents more than a quarter-million Pennsylvania members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and other veteran organizations.

Until the bonus question is settled by the electorate November 8, Gelman said, tax discussions were meaningless.

"In any event," he declared, "it should go before the people purely as a bonus issue, unencumbered by a specific tax."

"Any change in the tax program to pay for it later must depend on the tax situation which exists at that time."

He admitted veterans leaders were considering two or more possible levies to finance the bonus but refused to identify them.

Earlier, however, there were reports of support for boosting the penny-a-bottle beer tax or imposing a levy on tax-free real estate owned by public utilities.

The legislature has approved payment of $10 a month for domestic duty and $15 a month for overseas service, with benefits limited to a maximum $500.

"Flying Classroom" Features School

CALIFORNIA, Pa., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Students at California State Teachers college will take to the air Saturday for a two-day survey of Pennsylvania and New York.

The "flying classroom," believed to be the first time a school has used a plane to give students a visual picture of geological structures, will leave Pittsburgh, weather permitting.

The 24-passenger All-American Airways liner will stop at Harrisburg, after first surveying the ridge and valley section of Cumberland valley. The flight will continue over the Reading and Williamsport areas, covering the anthracite regions and then to the Delaware water gap area.

Following a brief stopover, the "flying classroom" will then swoop over the Catskill mountains, stopping overnight at Ithaca, N. Y. The student group will return to Pittsburgh Sunday evening, completing the two-day survey with a flight over New York's Finger Lakes and Niagara regions.

In 1828 the Russian government began to coin platinum money, and between that date and 1845, when they abandoned such coinage, more than $1,300,000 were struck off in one, three, six and twelve ruble coins.

Famous Polish Dancer Looks For New Pavlova

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—(INS).—Mieczyslaw Pianowski, internationally famous Polish dancer, has come to this country from a displaced person's camp in Wildflecken, Bavaria, to look for a successor to the great Anna Pavlova.

He arrived in the United States August 9, and is visiting his brother, Henry Pijanowski, former Polish vice-council in Pittsburgh.

Pianowski, dancing with companies on world tour, appeared in Pittsburgh in 1917 and 1923. The first time he came with the Russian Ballet of Diaghileff and the second time he appeared as Maitre-de-Ballet for Anna Pavlova and her ballet.

It's a different Pianowski now. His face is creased with lines put there by years of terror and slave labor.

When Germany invaded Poland in 1939, he left his job as ballet director of the Warsaw Opera and joined the underground.

He participated in the Warsaw uprising in 1944 and was among the many seized and taken to labor camps in Germany.

Pianowski, at 58, says he is too old to dance now, but he retains the know-how of an artist who authored eight ballets.

He said he has given up hope of developing another Pavlova in his native Poland. He has no intention, he added, of going home while the country is a "Russian puppet."

Several of his pupils are dancing in this country now. Perhaps, he said, he will be able to associate himself with a company as a choreographer and teacher and thereby find the next Pavlova.

Patrolman Charged With Manslaughter

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 17.—(INS).—Patrolman Robert Lee Fawley, 35, was charged with voluntary manslaughter and released on $5,000 bond in Clarksburg Tuesday after a coroner's inquest into the death of a fellow patrolman, Chester Shack, 26.

Shack was killed early yesterday in a dark alley by a bullet fired by Fawley, who said he did not recognize Shack as a policeman.

The jury decided Fawley was careless in the use of his gun.

Fawley contended he turned and fired after Shack threw his black-jack at him in the dark, apparently as a prank.

Police Chief E. F. Amsler told the jury: "There is no doubt in my mind that Fawley could have seen who he was shooting at the time."

The two men, former radio car partners, were patrolling adjoining beats at the time of the tragedy.

Shack was the father of a six-month-old boy.

MacArthur Grants Dying Plea Of Jap Girl To See Father

TOKYO, Aug. 17.—(INS).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur Tuesday granted the dying plea of a Japanese girl by permitting her father, who is serving a war crimes life sentence, to visit his home.

The girl, Yoshiko Miyamoto, 25, wrote a letter to the Allied supreme commander, saying: "I summon my courage to write to you because this is my last letter as the doctor says I am going to die. Please give me a chance to see and talk with my father."

On orders of Gen. MacArthur, Japanese police escorted the life term from Sugamo prison to his Tokyo home where he spent the afternoon with his daughter.

Miss Miyamoto is suffering from tuberculosis complicated by arthritis.

Ancient Manuscripts Found Near Dead Sea

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A group of six international experts is engaged today in a careful, painstaking study of "priceless" Biblical manuscripts found by Arabs in a crumbling cave near the Dead sea.

One of the scholars participating in the study, which has been going on quietly for some 15 months, is Dr. John C. Trever, director of the department of the English Bible for the International Council of Religious Education, Chicago.

Dr. Trever said today that the oldest of the manuscripts—scrolls on leather—is 23 feet long and contains the complete book of Isaiah. He added that it was written in ancient Hebrew—probably around 15 B. C. Dr. Trever said.

"This pre-dates by 1,000 years the earliest previously known Isaiah manuscript in Hebrew on which the book in present versions of the Bible is based."

Dr. Trever said that he and Dr. William Brownlee of Duke University are studying the manuscripts under the direction of Dr. Millar Burrows of Yale University.

Whereabouts Secret
Four manuscripts, Dr. Trever said, are in the U. S. for study by the three scholars. Whereabouts of the manuscripts have been kept secret because of their fragile condition.

According to Dr. Trever, the other three manuscripts in the U. S. deal with religious history, with two being written in ancient Hebrew and the third in Aramaic. They are believed to have been written shortly before the middle of the first century A. D.

Three other manuscripts dating from about the same period and found in the same cave are owned by the Hebrew University, Jerusalem. They are being studied there by Dr. Eliezer L. Sukenik.

Fragments of other scrolls excavated from the same cave are being "worked" by Pere R. Devaux of the French Ecole Biblique in Jerusalem and Dr. G. Lankster Harding, adviser of the Hashemite Jordan department of antiquities.

Dr. Trever said that work done thus far indicated that the scrolls are the work of some sect which believed itself the "real people of Israel." He added:

"Several years of study lie ahead of us and other scholars before we will be able to determine all the valuable facts contained in these scrolls."

Drake Well Museum To Get Early Tools

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 17.—(INS)—The handmade tools used in the drilling of the famous Drake Well near Titusville in 1859—the nation's first commercial oil well—will be presented to the Drake Well Museum August 27 as one of the highlights of the petroleum industry's celebration of its 90th birthday.

Mrs. F. Wayne Fesenmyer, of Bradford, present owner of the historic set of tools used by Col. Edwin L. Drake and his chief driller, W. A. "Uncle Billy" Smith, of Tarentum, is presenting them to the museum.

The Drake Museum is the largest institution in the country devoted to the collection of the history, lore, documents and relics of the early days of oil.

The tools are a center bit, a reamer, a stem, a set of jars and an eye-socket.

They were made by hand by "Uncle Billy" in his blacksmith shop at Tarentum before he came to Titusville to begin the drilling job which ultimately changed the concept of life itself.

According to an entry on May 14, 1859 in a memorandum book kept by Smith, the set of drilling tools cost $46. He made two extra boxes at $1.25 each, two extra pins at $2 each and 16 sucker rod points at $1.50 each. Thus, the whole drilling outfit cost a total of $76.50. Modern drilling tools cost thousands of dollars, and full rigs, including derricks and platforms have run as high as a million dollars each.

The total weight of the Drake tools was 103½ pounds. Today, drill bits alone may weigh as much as 400 pounds, and rock bits may weigh anywhere from 10 pounds to 1,200 pounds each. Drill collars average around 2,700 to 3,000 pounds each.

DIES IN CLAUSE
TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Alfred Collins, 37-year-old Philadelphia negro, died in the electric chair last night for the murder of 16-year-old Alberta Sharp, Pitman high school girl.

Collins walked silently into the death chamber at New Jersey state prison at 8:03 p. m., and was pronounced dead six minutes later. Earlier, he told the Rev. H. C. Van Pelt: "Pray for my wife, not for me."

He also left a letter for his wife, Mrs. Mae Collins, of Philadelphia. The Sharp girl's body, a bullet wound in the head, was found in a gravel pit near Mantau, in September, 1948. Collins was convicted of murder shortly afterward and the state supreme court upheld the conviction.

Democratic Chairman Claims GOP Leaders Avoid Bonus Issues

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Democratic State Chairman Philip Mathews Tuesday claimed two top Republican leaders were sidestepping the commonwealth's proposed half-billion dollar bonus for World War II veterans.

He said U. S. Sen. Edward Martin "pointedly avoided any reference to the question" in a speech to the Pennsylvania American Legion convention at Pittsburgh and asserted GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor did not "declare for the bonus" in a statement issued August 13.

Mathews, who said the Democratic party advocates a bonus for veterans, stated:

"For Senator Martin to have ignored the question of the bonus when speaking to a body of influential and interested veterans as the delegates to the American Legion convention indicates definite opposition to the bonus, for certainly had Senator Martin been in favor of the bonus he would have said so.

It naturally follows that Senator Martin represents that attitude of the Republican party on this question and Mr. M. Harvey Taylor, not having declared for the bonus in the bonus statement he issued on August 13, further confirms the anti-bonus stand of the Republican leaders."

He referred to a statement in which Taylor blasted Democrats for using the bonus as a political football. Earlier, Taylor had stated that he favored the bonus and had not found any opposition to the proposal among GOP county chairmen.

The bonus will appear on the general election ballot November 8.

The word "dickens" as used in slang to express impatience or irritation, bears no relationship to the famous novelist, Charles Dickens. It was used by Shakespeare more than 200 years before Dickens in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," when Mrs. Page states: "I cannot tell what the dickens his name is my husband had him of."

By FRANCES MARTEL

CALLING ON NEW RESIDENT
"Is it always necessary to call on new neighbors whether we like them or not? I have heard that it is always done; but I should think it is up to the individual to make her choice. Please advise me."

Answer: In small communities it is not obligatory but definitely the courteous thing to do. The newcomer waits for some gesture of welcome from the older residents, who should, if they do not make a social call, speak cordially when they meet their new neighbors.

Some neighbors of uncertain social position wait until they discover whether the new residents are worthy of their association. Whether or not they are so should make no difference in the cordiality with which they should be received. No friendship, of course, need develop if incompatibility exists but the good neighbor policy should be maintained, nonetheless.

The older resident calls first on the newer one and the newcomer returns that call. If they do not wish to further the friendship, no other calls need be made.

These people of "uncertain position" who are afraid of association with neighbors "beyond the pale" are usually those who themselves stand on flimsy ground. Those sure of themselves are invariably more democratic.

Question: My friends have sent gifts to my new baby son. Should I write thank you notes to all of them; even to those to whom I said "thank you" verbally when the gifts were presented?

Answer: Write a thank-you note to each donor. Your verbal "thank you" will suffice for all gifts presented personally, however, it is a thoughtful gesture to augment this verbal thanks with a note.

Present your problems to Miss Martel, who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

GOP Chairman Says There'll Be Changes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—

—GOP National Chairman Guy Gabrielson said Tuesday "there'll be some changes made" at Republican National Headquarters when he finishes a survey now underway.

The new party chairman returned from vacation today and made his first order of business a luncheon conference with Senate Republican leaders.

Gabrielson told a reporter he understood the senators wanted to hear his ideas on policies and organization of the party machinery which he took over on August 4 from Rep. Hugh Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania.

The New Jersey attorney met first with members of the Senate Republican policy committee and officials of the GOP Senate conference.

Asked about reports that he planned a house-cleaning for party headquarters, Gabrielson said he was surveying the situation this week and added:

"There'll be some changes made."

MAY MARRY COMMUNISTS
ROME, Aug. 17.—(INS)—The Vatican holy office ruled today that Roman Catholics may marry Communists provided the church receives the same guarantees it requires for the union of Catholics and non-Catholics.

These include assurances that any children of the marriage will be brought up in strict accordance with the rules of the church.

Ellwood Fight Card Success

Gibbons Wins By TKO Over West; Arnett TKO Winner, Crowd Of 2,500

FIGHT RESULTS

Tony Arnett, Ellwood City, 129 pounds, won by TKO over Nick Valentino, Detroit, 125 pounds, 1:15 third round.

Roy Jackie Bottonovich, Rochester, 151, decisioned Roy Crews, Ellwood City, 143, in five rounds.

Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, 142, won by TKO over Frank West, Youngstown, 147, 1:36 fifth round.

Bobby Neal, Beaver Falls, 149, knocked out Willard Coffey, 150, Charleston, W. Va., at end of second round.

Chuck Higgins, Youngstown, 159, decisioned Jimmy Guy, Detroit, 154, in eight rounds.

Chuck Higgins, of Youngstown, left little doubt in the minds of over 2,500 fight fans as to who was the better fighter as he decisioned Jimmy Guy, of Detroit, at Ellwood City last night.

Higgins battered Guy with hard lefts and rights in the second meeting of the two fighters in the eight round final of the matches sponsored by the Ellwood City Volunteer fire department at Lincoln high school field.

In the first meeting of the two fighters on March 22, in Ellwood City, Higgins was awarded a split decision over Guy.

He showed fight fans last night that his win in March was no fluke as he started hitting hard from the first bell. Both fighters mixed well in the early rounds with Higgins always getting in the hard blows.

In the third round Higgins started catching up with the fast moving and quick jabbing Guy and from then on kept tagging him consistently with solid lefts and rights.

In the seventh round Higgins caught Guy with a hard right upper cut and a left cross to send him reeling. Guy was forced to hold on for dear life to finish out the round.

Neal Looks Good

In the first scheduled eight round bout of the double windup, Bobby Neal, of Beaver Falls, knocked out Willard Coffey, of Charleston, W. Va., at the end of the second round.

The first round was slow with neither fighter doing much damage. Neal came out fast in the second and hurt Coffey with a solid right to the body and followed it up with a flurry of rights and lefts to the head to send Coffey to the canvas for a count of nine.

Coffey managed to hang on until near the end of the round when Neal caught him good for the final kick. Coffey tried to get up but his rubbery legs wouldn't hold him.

Gibbons Too Strong

Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, won by a technical knockout in one minute and 36 seconds of the final round of his scheduled five round match with game but outclassed Frank West, of Youngstown.

West put up a good fight all the way but couldn't match the easy and hard punching Ellwood middleweight. Gibbons knocked him down five times before referee Mike Hogan stopped the fight in the fifth.

Butler Tigers Whitewash Nats

Final Game Of Series Tonight, Giardullo Victim, Nats Lack Punch

(Special To The News)
BUTLER, August 17.—Behind the clutch pitching of southpaw Dick Giardullo the Butler Tigers shutout the New Castle Nats 5 to 0 here last night in another fast game.

Gikerson hooked up in a mound duel with Mike Giardullo who held the Tigers to three scattered hits until the eighth. A single by Cabanaw, a stolen base and Irv Carlson's triple clinched the game for the Tigers in the second. Gikerson was in frequent trouble.

The Nats left nine stranded. Shapiro and Kiel, accounted for four of the Nats seven hits, each getting two. Cabanaw and Stuckert led the attack for the Tigers.

Errors Costly
Two errors, both by Milich were costly. The first was in the second when he tagged out Cabanaw and dropped the ball in the second, the other in the seventh when he dropped Buranskas' high loft and set the stage for a Tiger rally.

The Tigers scored one in the second. Cabanaw singled to left and stole second. He was called out but was given a lift when Milich dropped the ball on a pick off throw. Carlson's blow to right field away for three stations to score Cabanaw. Odenheimer was out Giardullo to Kiel.

The Tigers made it 2-0 in the seventh. Buranskas was safe when Milich dropped his loft. Cabanaw lifted to left but Stuckert singled to left. Carlson grounded out to deep short, and on the play Buranskas came all the way home.

In the eighth Gikerson walked. Turzot singled through a drawn in third. Gikerson went to third and Turzot to second on the throw in third. Seale singled to right to plate Gikerson. Schultz grounded out with Turzot scoring. Buranskas grounded out as Seale moved to third. Cabanaw scored him with a drive through the box. Stuckert also singled through the box with Cabanaw going to third.

The teams will conclude their three-game series tonight. New Castle returns home Thursday to meet the Johnston Johnnies in a twin-bill at Flaherty Field starting at 7 o'clock.

Heintzelman Racks Up 14th, Trims Dodgers, Cards Lose

By HOWARD SIGMANT
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Baseball has more than its share of oddities and no one will blame the Brooklyn Dodgers if they claim that Philadelphia's Ken Heintzelman has more resiliency than the India rubber man.

The crafty left-hander had the Brooks' number earlier in the season, turning them back on four different occasions. But last week the Bums shelled him from the mound and hoped at last his mysterious mastery over them had been shelved. This was not to be.

The Phillie veteran bounced back last night but hard. Heintzelman hooked up with rookie sensation Don Newcombe in a 12-inning pitching duel that the Phils won 2 to 1 on Richie Ashburn's triple. Heintzelman gained his 14th victory of the season as he silenced the Dodger picket brigade after a fourth inning homer by Carl Furillo.

Cubs Beat Cards
Fortunately for the Shotommen their half game loss in the National league was not affected. The Cardinals dropped a 5 to 4 decision in the ninth inning to the tail-end Cubs on Roy Smalley's single with the bases loaded. Herman Reich drove in four runs for the winners.

Boston's Braves switched managers but the results were the same. Billy Southworth retired from the baseball scene for the rest of the year because of ill health and was replaced last night by coach Johnny Cooney.

Montia Kennedy of the New York Giants whitewashed the Braves 4 to 0.

A single by Lloyd Merriman in the tenth gave the Cincinnati Reds and Howie Foa a 2 to 1 triumph over the Pirates.

Indians Blank Tigers
The Cleveland Indians fought their way to a tie for second place in the American league by blanking the Tigers, 5 to 0.

The veteran Al Benton limited his former mates to six hits to gain his fourth win.

Boston's seven-game winning streak was snapped by the pesky Philadelphia A's, 7 to 4.

Yanks Rained Out
The loss placed the Red Sox 3 1/2 games behind the Yankees, whose scheduled game with the Senators was rained out.

Bob Kuzawa of the White Sox rationed the St. Louis Browns to three hits as he shut them out, 4 to 0.

Millions of fans throughout the nation paid silent tribute to the memory of Babe Ruth last night, on the first anniversary of his death. A minute's silence was observed in all ball parks.

Talent plus seasoning, he insists, is the best prescription to guarantee a healthy success in the majors for young players.

Decision Stuns Baseball World

Braves Owners Grant Southworth Leave Of Absence, For Balance Of 1949

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—Boston's stunned baseball fandom looked uncertainly today to former Coach Jimmy Cooney to lead the faltering Braves to another National League pennant.

Tribe President Lou Perini named Cooney as acting manager to replace Billy Southworth, the "miracle manager" of yesteryear who quit unexpectedly yesterday. Sports scribes and fans alike were speculating today as to whether "poor health" was the real reason for the leave of absence granted to Southworth for the balance of the season.

Failing Health
In announcing the leave, Perini said he had been greatly disturbed by Southworth's failing health and had personally proposed that Billy call it a campaign now lest his health become too deeply impaired.

Perini named Cooney to take Southworth's place until the end of the current campaign. Southworth, in his fourth season as manager of the Braves, still has three more full seasons to go under his present contract, reportedly $40,000.

Perini told newsmen: "Southworth is on the point of a nervous collapse. It was very visible at a meeting we held here Monday. Billy was jittery. Chairmen and snappy with his answers. It was not the Southworth we have known around here for more than three years."

Southworth confessed to the Braves' head that of late he has been unable to sleep well, has eaten irregularly and has been suffering from constantly recurring headaches, the first in his life.

Perini said: "Now you fellows may speculate all you wish, but Southworth is our manager. He's the best in the business. He's coming back in top health and make a fresh start in 1950."

Leaves For Home
Perini put emphasis on this latter part of his talk, but there were those who speculated that Southworth was through with the Braves for good and that the "poor health" angle was a ruse.

Ellwood Fight Card Success

slowed down when the hard punching blond from Rochester caught up with him in the third round. Botoonovich tagged Crews with several solid rights in the fourth and had him in serious trouble at the bell.

Crews came back in the fifth and final round and tried valiantly to slug it out with Botoonovich, but he didn't have enough left.

Tony Arnett Wins
Tony Arnett, of Ellwood City, won by a technical knockout in one minute and 15 seconds of the third round of his scheduled four round lid-fighter with Nick Valentino, of Detroit.

After a fast but ineffective first round Arnett tagged Valentino several times in the second, sending him down for a nine count late in the round.

Arnett came out fast in the third and landed rights and lefts almost at will before referee Mike Sarwin stopped the fight.

The fights were some of the best witnessed in the district for quite some time and matchmaker Ray Luccisano did a swell job of lining up the fighters.

Fritzie Zivic Present
Fritzie Zivic, along with Frankie Moran, Billy Pozza, Russ Baxter and Billy Lima were at ringside for the bouts and were introduced by announcer Bill Vogt between the third and fourth bouts.

Mike Sarwin and Mike Hogan did an excellent job of refereeing the matches. Judge for the matches was Mike Fazzone and time keeper was Humbert Fazzone.

It was announced at the fights that there will be a wrestling match staged by Johnny Luccisano on September 12 at the Ellwood City Arena and sponsored by the Ellwood City Lions club.

Only 15 Steelers Now In Training

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Only 15 members of last season's Pittsburgh Steelers football team remained in camp today.

And veteran wingback Bob Cifers, who came to Pittsburgh in the ill-fated Bill Dudley trade with Detroit, was not among them.

The former Tennessee star was dismissed yesterday for breaking training. Coach Johnny Michelosen announced the firing after he talked briefly with Cifers in the morning.

His dismissal follows the pattern of the pro team's "austerity" program in which most veterans had their choice of either taking sizeable pay slashes or jumping to the rival All-America Conference.

Seals Win City Recreation Title

Compile Seasons Record Of 16 Wins And 1 Defeat; Hiler, Smiley Star

Seals won the championship of the New Castle Junior Recreation league with a season's record of 16 to 1, scoring a total of 169 runs to their opponents' 32.

Captain Harry Hiler led the team in batting with a terrific .434 average and Ray Smiley topped the pitchers with a nine and one record.

Hiler came to bat 55 times and had 25 hits, including two doubles, one triple and two home runs. He received 10 walks and struck out only five times.

Ronald Houston compiled a pitching mark of 5-0 to rank with Smiley as one of the top pitchers in the league. Hiler besides leading in batting took several turns on the mound and won two games without a defeat.

Other top regulars on the team are Conrad Palumbo with .339, Michael Jurina, .320, Joe Wrona, .313 and Billy Wanatosky, .291.

League play ended last Wednesday in the league and an all star game between the Seals and the loop All-Stars will be played at Washington field Friday evening.

The Seals are going to Pittsburgh Saturday and will meet members of the Pittsburgh Pirates personally.

Sager Seeking Honors Tonight

CANFIELD, O., Aug. 17.—Bucky Sager, the handsome lad known to the fans as "Nature Boy" who will compete in tomorrow night's program of Hard Top Racing at the Canfield Speedway won the feature event at Adrain, Mich., last week, and predicts that he will win the Canfield feature tomorrow night.

Sager drives the "double zero" with Elmer Wilson of Toledo in its team car the "zero." Sager in his spectacular driving last week in this same car tangled several times with the rest of the field.

Thus far at Canfield, the midget drivers who have taken to driving these "Hard Tops" on Wednesday night's at Canfield have won the feature event—and Sager, who is an original "Hard Top" driver hopes to take top honors away from the midget stars.

The Hard Top racing programs held on Wednesday evenings at the Canfield Speedway are run under the sanction of the Ohio Auto Racing Association.

U. S. Personnel Ready To Leave Canton Quickly

State Department Official
Issue Formal Announcement
To Be Prepared

CHINESE COMMUNISTS IGNORE REQUIREMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(INS)—The State department Tuesday ordered all U. S. official personnel to be prepared to leave the temporary Chinese capital of Canton at the first threat of Communist attack.

Reports of advancing Chinese Communist forces indicate that the withdrawal may take place at any time.

State department official spokesman Lincoln White issued a formal announcement which said that the withdrawal is being ordered because of the failure of the Chinese Communist authorities to comply with usual international intercourse and their refusal to permit American consular officials to perform normal functions in areas already under Communist control.

White said that the consulate general in Canton had been advised of the order, which affects his staff of 76 persons.

Follow Nationalists
He added that the embassy office staff there would also follow the Chinese Nationalist government wherever it might go.

While no official word has been received of the Nationalist government's movements, reports from Canton indicated that the main body was returning to Chungking, the war time site of the Nationalist government during the Japanese invasion.

By withdrawing the officials from Canton an estimated 934 Americans will be left without officials to protect their interests.

However, White recalled that on July 26 the Canton consul general, Karl Rankin, had repeated a warning to them that the Communists either through "inability or unwillingness" had failed to honor pledges to respect the rights of foreigners. It is not known how many of the Americans have heeded that warning. They are located in the provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi, Fukien, Kiangsi and Hunan.

Refuse To Comply

In announcing the instructions to Canton, White said:

"This decision has been reached in the light of the failure of the Chinese Communist authorities to comply with the usual requirements of international intercourse and their refusal to permit American consular officials to perform their normal functions, particularly the protection of American Nationals and their interests."

"The Chinese Communist authorities themselves have in some cases failed to afford protection from physical violence or mob action despite explicit expressed assurances by Chinese Communist leaders that foreign Nationals and their property would be given appropriate protection."

Moreover, the Communist authorities at Shanghai have not established appropriate and adequate facilities for the issuance of exit permits to American citizens desiring to leave China.

"American citizens in areas which may be threatened with occupation by the Chinese Communist forces are being notified of this action in order that they may reach their decision with respect to departure in full knowledge of these circumstances."

Rayburn Predicts Approval Of Bill On Aid To Friends

By ROSE McKEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., predicted Tuesday that the House will approve the administration's one billion, 450 million dollar arms-for-friends bill "without substantial change."

He said the bill will be called up on the House floor tomorrow if the rules committee gives it clearance as expected later in the day.

The speaker was asked what he thought would result from a new drive by House foreign affairs committeemen to cut funds for Europe by 50 per cent. He replied:

"I think there are as many diverse views in the House as there were in the foreign affairs committee and the result of this will be that no substantial change probably will be made."

Stolen Barber Pole Returned Not By One But By Three Police

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—(INS)—The case of the missing barber pole was cleared up Tuesday and Barber John Kozaryna had his work cut out for him.

The pole was stolen Monday from its place in front of Kozaryna's shop.

A tearful barber called police and offered a free haircut and shave to the officer who recovered the six-foot pole.

His clippers were working overtime Tuesday. The pole was recovered by Sgt. Tom Sweeney and Patrolmen Art Richter and Jack Splicer.
